The New Orleans Police Department received a tip through Crimestoppers that led to the arrest of a man who allegedly killed a man in Uptown New Orleans.

Tuesday morning, the NOPD's Violent Offender Warrant Squad responded to the tip with the location of Marion Taylor, 19, according to a press release from the NOPD.

Officers picked up Taylor in an apartment on the 12100 block of the I-10 Service Road.

Taylor, who is accused of fatally wounding a 27-year-old man at the intersection of Josephine and Laurel Street in Uptown, was arrested and booked with second-degree murder, according the NOPD.
